

An Adventurous Quest

4 Friends decide to go on an adventure on their way they encounter numerous tasks they need to overcome. On their way they can go through towns where they can find useful supplies or strengthen their friendship. They can also decide to go through mountains where they will face challenges they can overcome or not. Their destination will be a sea with a huge waterfall there they will face their greatest challenge yet. Will they make it to the end or face a harsh defeat?